

This is in response to the Consumer Bankers group that is attempting to force Wisconsin residents to be subject simply to the federal no-call list rather than the stricter State of Wisconsin no-call list. The past two years (the time since we have had this strict no-call list) have been among the most hassle free months that I can recall. It would seem to be a horrible infringement on our right to privacy to go back to those daily telemarketer calls that we used to receive. This is true for my wife and I, it is especially true for others such as my 92 year old mother-in-law who used to feel that she was being singled out to be harassed through these "unknown people calling her". Please do not let this bankers group convince you to take away the right to privacy that the State of Wisconsin has afforded us for these past two years. Let us continue to live in peace.

Larry Coe